Lexus celebrated the launch of its newest luxury performance sedan at a showroom soiree in Gastown. Taking aim at the wealthier 35-45-year-old male set—the domain of auto giant BMW—the Japanese manufacturer offered the boys a sneak peek at the new sport sedan series along with a special performance by Canada's own Divine Brown at Sugarandsugar.

Also at Sugarandsugar, Splash of Blue, the first of a series of charity cocktail celebrations, was held in support of the ALS Society of British Columbia. Featuring artist Meghan Hildebrand, crooner Luis Giraldo and The Blue Morris Swing Orchestra, the Blue benefit raised funds to provide direct support to patients, their families and caregivers living with Lou Gehrig's disease.
