

urban landscape

Sugar and Sugar's Gillian Swan found her squeeze, bartender Allan Manser, at A Taste of Valentine's. The Cupid's ball benefitted Look Good Feel Better, a society serving women living with cancer.

LAWYERS, DOCTORS, AND FIREMEN, oh my! A handsome crowd squeezed into Sugar and Sugar for the premiere party and event space's inaugural singles celebration A Taste of Valentine's. The red room of hearts and roses, along with a giant chocolate fondue fountain and wall-to-wall tea lights served as the romantic backdrop for the well-dressed and well-heeled bachelors and bachelorettes looking for a love connection (or perhaps just a connection). Playing cupid, owner Jason Sugar and Gillian Swan hosted the sexy and stylish mingler for the proceeds benefiting the Look Good Feel Better Society, which serves women living with cancer.

Checking out the urban mix of eye candy at the Sugar and Sugar Valentine's party were (l-r) Ramen Bhullar, Lisa Hohman and Neeta Sandhu.

Making sure everyone looked their Valentine's best at the Look Good Feel Better bash were the Bay's Lancome beauties (l-r) Lindsay Thorne, Gaelen Gibson and Pierce Rees.