ON THE TOWN

I didn't know you could do so much with gin. Bombay Sapphire held an intimate mixology and food pairing dinner with Diva at the Met at Sugarandsugar Thursday. The event educated the mind and pleased the palate. The scrumptious feast was hosted by Bombay Sapphire Global Brand Ambassador, Jamie Walker. Living in London, England, Jamie is considered one of the original pioneers of the cocktail revival in the 1990s that has now exploded into a worldwide cocktail culture. When not bartending for the stars (Elton John, Madonna, David Beckham, to name a few) Jamie travels the globe showing finer establishments what a little splash of Bombay Sapphire can do for a dinner and a cocktail.
